The Elephant in the Room: AI

What are your thoughts about your students using AI in their studies and projects? As you know, people are writing books and manuscripts solely or partially with AI. They are creating images just by writing intricate prompts. There are varying opinions on the subject.

Edutopia.org has some excellent articles from teachers who are on opposing sides of using AI with their students.

kidtopia facts   versus   Kidtopia

Have you tried Kidtopia Facts (kidtopiafacts.com) or Kidtopia (kidtopia.info) yet?

Actually, Kidtopia Facts just sticks to the facts and is a bit more basic than Kidtopia. Both are designed for very young students--ages 4 or 5 and up. Try them out and send us some feedback via email.

Have your students perform a simple search with one word such an elephant. I did a search for "elephant" and only got 3 pages of results. (Google obtained 31 pages of results.) This is an easy way for students to start learning to do research. What do you think of the results?
